Dear

We certainly enjoyed talking with you earlier this afternoon and do appreciate your views concerning logistical support for Europe and other matters which we discussed.

25X1A

In accordance with your request I am forwarding herewith extracts of exit interview reports (for the period May through October, 1953) from military personnel who have served at the Mission and subsequently left our organization. As I told you, an analysis of the reports for this period indicates that fifteen out of sixty-two enlisted men and two out of eight officers voiced some dissatisfaction. I should like to emphasize, however, that this informal analysis is not intended to be an evaluation report of any kind and is passed on merely for your information and any action which you deem to be appropriate.

I have written a personal letter to [redacted] advising him, in substance, that the planning of a logistical base command in [redacted] for the support of Europe would be inconsistent with over-all Hubark planning and feel sure that we will all be speaking the same language in this regard from now on.

Sincerely,
